22 Sir,

23 my concern as expressed also in my 3 March correspondence is what information the TGA
24 really relied upon. And, as I quote the details below there is a concern that no “informed”
25 consent is obtained from those injected with whatever.

26
27 A copy will also be provided to Fiona Patten, Vic, Reason Party

28 As apparently she went along with Premier Daniel Andrews to have another 9 months of State
29 of Emergency declared, this even so as I write in the past because of the Biosecurity Act 2015
30 (Cth) and the Framers of the Constitution making clear that any “man-kind” disease is 31 Commonwealth legislative powers, then I view any State of Emergency by the State of Victoria 32 in regard of coronavirus issue has no legal validity.

33
34 While this may not be a sexual issue nevertheless in my view this may constitute Government 35 sponsored statutory rape, in that without any “informed consent” the Government (and so those 36 aiding it) are unlawfully injecting something to which no “informed” consent was provided.

37 As I understand it, that the Government has dictated that a person is not to be told what he/she is 38 to be injected with. This than prevents any person to provide “informed” consent. There is 39 obviously a considerable difference between being injected with a vaccine or with “mRNA” and 40 as such a person injected cannot make any reasonable decision if what is injected may or may 41 not cause any allergic reaction. Also, for example there was a medical doctor who allegedly was 42 not appropriate trained to provide any injection then where then 4 times was injected than should 43 have been the 2 persons therefore never gave “informed” consent for this. Moreover, as I
44 understand it how much is injected depends upon the type of syringe being used as I understand 45 3ml is to be injected in certain cases but some syringes retain about 0.1 to 0.05ml.

1 I have been stating my WARNINGS in the past but well aware that we got hypocrites who 2 ignore it all and just pursue their ideological and political narratives no matter the harmful affect 3 upon fellow human beings and well, those who persist in this I view must be held legally
 4 accountable. And where they deliberately acted in a manner to cause injury or even death then I
 5 view they cannot claim some kind of professional immunity as the Framers of the Constitution
 6 made clear that even Ministers and their officials can be held legally accountable. This legal 7 principle is embedded in the constitution and cannot be circumvented.

 53 Peter Doshi outlines new concerns about the trustworthiness and meaningfulness of the reported efficacy
 54 results of Pfizer's and Moderna's COVID-19 vaccine trials.

1 By Peter Doshi 43

2 Five weeks ago, when I raised questions about the results of Pfizer's and Moderna's COVID-19
3 vaccine trials, all that was in the public domain were the study protocols and 4 a few press releases. Today, two journal publications and around 400 pages of summary data
5 are available in the form of multiple reports presented by and to the FDA prior to the agency's 6 emergency authorization of each company's mRNA vaccine. While some of the additional 7 details are reassuring, some are not. Here I outline new concerns about the trustworthiness 8 and meaningfulness of the reported efficacy results.

9 "Suspected COVID-19"

10 All attention has focused on the dramatic efficacy results: Pfizer reported 170 PCR 11 confirmed COVID-19 cases, split 8 to 162 between vaccine and placebo groups. But these 12 numbers were dwarfed by a category of disease called "suspected COVID-19"—those with 13 symptomatic COVID-19 that were not PCR confirmed. According to FDA's report on Pfizer's 14 vaccine, there were "3410 total cases of suspected, but unconfirmed COVID-19 in the overall 15 study population, 1594 occurred in the vaccine group vs. 1816 in the placebo group."

16 With 20 times more suspected than confirmed cases, this category of disease cannot be 17 ignored simply because there was no positive PCR test result. Indeed this makes it all the more
18 urgent to understand. A rough estimate of vaccine efficacy against developing COVID-19
19 symptoms, with or without a positive PCR test result, would be a relative risk reduction of 19%
20 (see footnote)—far below the 50% effectiveness threshold for authorization set by regulators.
21 Even after removing cases occurring within 7 days of vaccination (409 on Pfizer's vaccine vs. 287 22 on placebo), which should include the majority of symptoms due to short-term vaccine 23 reactogenicity, vaccine efficacy remains low: 29% (see footnote).

24 If many or most of these suspected cases were in people who had a false negative PCR test result,
25 this would dramatically decrease vaccine efficacy. But considering that influenza-like 26 illnesses have always had myriad causes—rhinoviruses, influenza viruses, other coronaviruses,
27 adenoviruses, respiratory syncytial virus, etc.—some or many of the suspected COVID-19 cases
28 may be due to a different causative agent.

29 But why should etiology matter? If those experiencing "suspected COVID-19" had essentially the 30 same clinical course as confirmed COVID-19, then "suspected plus confirmed COVID-19" may be 31 a more clinically meaningful endpoint than just confirmed covid-19.

32 However, if confirmed COVID-19 is on average more severe than suspected COVID-19, we must 33 still keep in mind that at the end of the day, it is not average clinical severity that matters, it's 34 the incidence of severe disease that affects hospital admissions. With 20 times more suspected 35 covid-19 than confirmed covid-19, and trials not designed to assess whether the vaccines can 36 interrupt viral transmission, an analysis of severe disease irrespective of etiologic agent—
37 namely, rates of hospitalizations, ICU cases, and deaths amongst trial participants—seems 38 warranted, and is the only way to assess the vaccines' real ability to take the edge off the 39 pandemic.

40 There is a clear need for data to answer these questions, but Pfizer's 92-page report didn't 41 mention the 3410 "suspected COVID-19" cases. Nor did its publication in the New England 42 Journal of Medicine. Nor did any of the reports on Moderna's vaccine. The only source that 43 appears to have reported it is FDA's review of Pfizer's vaccine.

44 The 371 individuals excluded from Pfizer vaccine efficacy analysis

45 Another reason we need more data is to analyse an unexplained detail found in a table of FDA's
46 review of Pfizer's vaccine: 371 individuals excluded from the efficacy analysis for "important 47 protocol deviations on or prior to 7 days after Dose 2." What is concerning is the imbalance
48 between randomized groups in the number of these excluded individuals: 311 from the vaccine
49 group vs 60 on placebo. (In contrast, in Moderna's trial, there were just 36 participants excluded 50 from the efficacy analysis for "major protocol deviation"—12 vaccine group vs 24 placebo group.)

51 What were these protocol deviations in Pfizer's study, and why were there five times more
52 participants excluded in the vaccine group? The FDA report doesn't say, and these exclusions
53 are difficult to even spot in Pfizer's report and journal publication.

54 Fever and pain medications, unblinding, and primary event adjudication committees

55 Last month I expressed concern about the potential confounding role of pain and fever 56 medications to treat symptoms. I posited that such drugs could mask symptoms, leading to

1 underdetection of COVID-19 cases, possibly in greater numbers in people who received the
 2 vaccine in an effort to prevent or treat adverse events. However, it seems their potential to 3 confound results was fairly limited: although the results indicate that these medicines were taken
 4 around 3–4 times more often in vaccine versus placebo recipients (at least for Pfizer’s vaccine—
 5 Moderna did not report as clearly), their use was presumably concentrated in the first week after 6 vaccine use, taken to relieve post-injection local and systemic adverse events. But the 7 cumulative incidence curves suggest a fairly constant rate of confirmed COVID-19 cases over 8 time, with symptom onset dates extending well beyond a week after dosing.

9 That said, the higher rate of medication use in the vaccine arm provides further reason to 10 worry about unofficial unblinding. Given the vaccines’ reactogenicity, it’s hard to imagine 11 participants and investigators could not make educated guesses about which group they were in.
 12 The primary endpoint in the trials is relatively subjective making unblinding an important concern.
 13 Yet neither FDA nor the companies seem to have formally probed the reliability of the blinding 14 procedure, and its effects on the reported outcomes.

15 Nor do we know enough about the processes of the primary event adjudication committees
 16 that counted COVID-19 cases. Were they blinded to antibody data and information on 17 patients’ symptoms in the first week after vaccination? What criteria did they employ, and 18 why, with a primary event consisting of a patient-reported outcome (COVID-19 symptoms)
 19 and PCR test result, was such a committee even necessary? It’s also important to understand
 20 who was on these committees. While Moderna has named its four-member adjudication
 21 committee—all university-affiliated physicians—Pfizer’s protocol says three Pfizer
 22 employees did the work. Yes, Pfizer staff members.

23 END QUOTE

24
 25 In my view, the TGA never had sufficient information to gamble with the lives of Australians
 26 and I have no doubt that sooner than later when individuals are suffering from harmful after 27 effects or even die then legal accountability will likely be following.

 52 time, but this should be seen, in the long-term, as an investment. Given the complexities of the issues
 53 raised, the suitability of an “expanded workforce ... [administering] these vaccines to the public”, is 54 thrown into doubt. It is particularly concerning that “people who are not healthcare providers

 3 may necessitate a quick-fix approach, the long-term objectives of improving vaccine confidence and 4 overall trust in medical science must not be lost.

15 Results of the study: COVID-19 vaccines designed to elicit neutralising antibodies
 16 may sensitise vaccine recipients to more severe disease than if they were not
 17 vaccinated. Vaccines for SARS, MERS and RSV have never been approved, and the data
 18 generated in the development and testing of these vaccines suggest a serious mechanistic 19 concern: that vaccines designed empirically using the traditional approach (consisting of 20 the unmodified or minimally modified coronavirus viral spike to elicit neutralising 21 antibodies), be they composed of protein, viral vector, DNA or RNA and irrespective of 22 delivery method, may worsen COVID-19 disease via antibody-dependent enhancement
 23 (ADE). This risk is sufficiently obscured in clinical trial protocols and consent forms for 24 ongoing COVID-19 vaccine trials that adequate patient comprehension of this risk is 25 unlikely to occur, obviating truly informed consent by subjects in these trials.

26 Conclusions drawn from the study and clinical implications: The specific and

41 Amid concerns about the spread of misinformation and conspiracy theories surrounding the roll out of 42 the COVID-19 vaccine, Health Minister Greg Hunt revealed that the Federal Government had 43 "quietly" established a "myth-busting unit".

44 "There are those that are peddling, frankly, false myths," he told journalists on Sunday.

45 "And so, there has been a myth-busting unit that was, actually, quietly set up within Home Affairs
 46 during the course of 2020 in cooperation with the Health Department."

47 He said the unit aimed to counter "plainly ridiculous" misinformation, such as , in order to "provide public 48 reassurance to combat in the marketplace those ideas which would in any way falsely have some impact on 49 public confidence".

1 Officially, the "myth-busting unit" is known as the All Source Fusion Cell (ASFC). According to the , the 2 cell identifies, analyses, assesses and makes recommendations for action to counter COVID-19
 3 misinformation, disinformation and scams.

4 The unit draws on information provided by departments and agencies across government, as well as open-
 5 source information to produce "fused summary reports".

6 Since March 2020, the ASFC has produced at least 60 reports and made 180 referrals to the digital 7 industry and police for action to counter the spread of misinformation and disinformation.

8 This might explain why the Department of Home Affairs has made more than 500 takedown requests
 9 for COVID-19 misinformation and scams.

10 Indeed, , it has made more requests than any other government department since March 2020 to have 11 misinformation about the COVID-19 pandemic removed from Facebook.

12 END QUOTE

 14 Actually, I have discovered that often some "fact check" is no more but some political inspired 15 nonsense. For example, with a Fact check as to what President Donald J Trump had stated but 16 what fact check really held he intended to mean versus what Joe Biden had stated versus what he 17 really did mean. Just that with President Donald J Trump the claim was to have a meaning not at 18 all stated, where as with Joe Biden where he made clear to have set up a fraudulent election 19 campaign then fact check pretended he really didn't mean it. That to me is not fact checking but 20 to twist the truth.

 22 With politicians they often do lie about matters and then then it seems they are entitled to do so 23 but when a person expressed details which are factually but are contradicting a politician then the 24 politicians will pursue to have the opposing facts to be removed as "disinformation".

25 As shown with the above quotation the Minister was very busy to get material removed and yet 26 in my view is lacking himself competence as to the real facts and relevant details.

27
 28 The Big Tech such as Facebook, Google, Twitter etc are politically motivated and have been 29 removing posts of many, even from qualified scientist and medical doctors because it didn't fit
 30 the narrative of the WHO (World Health Organisation) or the Democrats in the USA.

31 Et, after they removed certain items then the WHO makes a 80 degree turn and make an opposite
 32 claim and well then those who posted statements that were according to the then WHO narrative 33 now no longer are and then are removed as "disinformation".

34 Then who would be unaware of the ongoing Republican election scandal where even the 35 SCOTUS (Supreme Court of the United States) refused to hear the evidence. After all, to dare to 36 claim there was "election fraud" is contrary to the Democrat party's mantra. So numerous post 37 were removed and the posters even "cancelled" etc. But wait there is more, now Democrats are 38 in the courts pursuing election fraud and not just in New York but when a Democrat pursues it 39 then well somehow there was then : "election fraud". Now twice the court made its orders, the 40 latest being:

50 END QUOTE

1 Actually there are numerous other cases where individuals were charged with “voters fraud”
2 regarding the November 2020 presidential election.

3 Hence, I view that Tech Giants to interfere with FREEDOM OF SPEECH merely because some 4 Minister may demand this is totally absurd. Indeed defies the High Court of Australia legal 5 principle in the Albert Langer case that people should be able to make an informed decision
6 regarding politicians. This obviously they cannot do if postings that contradict that of the 7 Ministers mantra, regardless being of qualified practitioners are then removed from publications.
8

9 I in my research came across articles where there was a warning that many DIDS deaths of the 10 past actually could have resulted due to vaccinations. While at the time medical doctors , 11 politicians and many others all had their mantra that vaccinations are safe and anyone claiming 12 otherwise is pursuing “disinformation” however my recent writings refer to court judgments
13 where it was held as many as about million women were sterilized without their knowledge
14 and/or consent. And there are other samples where in Africa the death rate of children vaccinated
15 was about ten times that of vaccinated children. Hardly something to claim is a “safe” 16 vaccination system. And in Australia who can ignore the “infected” polio vaccinations of the 17 960’s?

21 ‘Pivot point’: Kathleen Folbigg ‘approves’ new petition for pardon

22 QUOTE

23 A lot has happened since then, including a Court of Appeal hearing in February when Folbigg sought to
24 quash the 2019 outcome of the judicial inquiry by the Honourable Reginald Blanch AM, QC, which 25 reinforced her guilt as a serial killer. The court has reserved its decision.

26 This week, a 14-page petition to the Governor of NSW emerged, signed by 90 medical practitioners and 27 science leaders calling for Folbigg's immediate pardon and release "based on the significant positive evidence 28 of natural causes of death" of the children, who died aged 19 days to 19 months.

29 It notes the inquiry into Folbigg's convictions heard the genomes of her children were sequenced, finding the 30 two girls had a novel mutation in the CALM2 gene.

31 "Mutations in this gene are one of the best recognised causes of sudden death in infancy and childhood, both 32 while asleep and awake," the petition states. "Ms Folbigg's convictions were based on the prosecution's 33 theory that she smothered all four children. Yet there is no medical evidence to indicate smothering.

34 "The Governor should have no doubt that the case against Kathleen Folbigg is entirely circumstantial. It is 35 based on the proposition that the likelihood of four children from one family dying of natural causes is so 36 unlikely as to be virtually impossible."

37 The document, dated March 2, was referred to NSW Attorney-General Mark Speakman who has said it "will 38 be given appropriate consideration".

39 Her former barrister Dr Robert Cavanagh, who has put forward the petition with solicitor Rhanee Rego, said
40 Folbigg "approves it" and it is a "parallel, separate matter" to the appeal.

41 "This is not a matter for lawyers, this is science and medicine," Dr Cavanagh said.

44 While I only today came across this article, it was however a few days ago that I was then 45 wondering how many time a parent was wrongly convicted for causing the death of a child were 46 really, as now has been exposed in the USA that vaccines can result in children dying because 47 for some 2 years there was no safety checking at all. All those politicians, medical doctors and 48 others who were parroting that vaccinations are safe never bothered to actually check the fact.
49

1 I in my recent writings did refer also to the “anaphylactic” issue and reportedly a 56 year old
2 doctor, as an example, died as result. Yet, it now turns out as I view it that somehow the TGA
3 has failed to ensure that there is a proper regime in place to try to avoid this.

14 QUOTE

15 Brittany Higgins has responded to reports Defence Minister Linda Reynolds called her a 16 "lying cow," saying it is evidence of the "toxic workplace culture" at Parliament House.

19 It appears to me that we lack “leadership” and politicians are too much involved in what appears 20 to be a “toxic workplace culture” then to be hands on making sure that any campaign against 21 any disease is at the forefront, rather than all kinds of absurd conduct distracting the attention of 22 the constituents and their wellbeing, rights and safety.
