Dear Office of Prime Minister and Cabinet.

I make request under the Freedom of Information Act.
I provide the following so as to understand the request.

Royal Titles Act 1953
1953 CHAPTER 9 1 and 2 Eliz 2

An Act to provide for an alteration of the Royal Style and Titles.

[26th March 1953]

Whereas it is expedient that the style and titles at present appertaining to the Crown should be altered so as to reflect more clearly the existing constitutional relations of the members of the Commonwealth to one another and their recognition of the Crown as the symbol of their free association and of the Sovereign as the Head of the Commonwealth:

And whereas it was agreed between representatives of Her Majesty's Governments in the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the Union of South Africa, Pakistan, and Ceylon assembled in London in the Month of December, nineteen hundred and fifty-two, that there is need for an alteration thereof which, whilst permitting of the use in relation to each of those countries of a form suiting its particular circumstances, would retain a substantial element common to all:

The Request

Power to alter the style and titles of the Crown.

The assent of the Parliament of the United Kingdom is hereby given to the adoption by Her Majesty, for use in relation to the United Kingdom and all other the territories for whose foreign relations Her Government in the United Kingdom is responsible, of such style and titles as Her Majesty may think fit having regard to the said agreement, in lieu of the style and titles at present appertaining to the Crown, and to the issue by Her for that purpose of Her Royal Proclamation under the Great Seal of the Realm.

The adoption of the Statute of Westminster in 1942 bought legal recognition and independence of the dominion governments within the British Commonwealth, the Royal Titles Act 1953 (UK) gave the Queen license to adopt titles within the territories, for whose foreign relations Her Government in the United Kingdom "are responsible for", history provides the Commonwealth of Australia became responsible for their own foreign affairs in 1942 by the adoption of the Statute of Westminster 1931 ~ I request the document or instrument given to the adoption by Her Majesty in 1973, for use in relation to Australia for whose foreign relations Her Government in the United Kingdom "are no longer responsible for" as the requested document or instrument has not been found and appears not to exist...

Thank you for taking the time to process my request.
